THE GUIDE

Thank you for taking the time to explore my approach to wedding photography. This guide is designed to give you a clear and honest insight into how I work, what you can expect on a wedding day, and how I tell stories through images.

Along the way, you'll find a selection of my favourite photographs—moments chosen to inspire you and help you imagine your own day. My focus is not only on how everything looks, but on how it feels. Your photographs should reflect who you truly are: the emotions, the energy, the anticipation, and the deep connection that brings you together.

Rather than defining my style too rigidly, I allow it to adapt to you, your location, and the rhythm of your day. Every wedding is different, and I approach each one with fresh eyes and an open heart. If you're drawn to natural, heartfelt imagery that feels effortless yet intentional, I would love to hear from you.

BEHIND THE LENS

Hi, I'm Paola, born and raised in Brazil, and I see myself as a storyteller through the lens of my camera. Whether it's an intimate engagement shoot in a bustling city, an elopement on a remote island, or a big backyard wedding, I'm there to document your love in the form of timeless photographs—capturing the moments you'll cherish forever.

I'm passionate about the art of photography. My work blends technical expertise with intuition, capturing genuine emotions and the subtle, in-between moments that make your day unforgettable.

YOUR WEDDING JOURNEY

You've said yes! Congratulations! Now the journey begins.

There is no single right way to plan a wedding, but I'm happy to share guidance based on my experience and photographer's perspective. After our first contact, we'll schedule an intake session where we align our visions, talk through your plans, and get to know each other better.

Booking your wedding photography should feel clear, relaxed, and personal. Below is a simple overview of the steps we'll take together, from our first conversation to your wedding day.

Step 1 — Get in Touch
Reach out via email or my website and tell me about your plans.

Step 2 — Our First Conversation
After your enquiry, we'll schedule a call or meeting. This is a relaxed, no-commitment conversation where we get to know each other, talk through your ideas, and see if we're the right fit. I'd love to hear your story, your date, and what you're dreaming of for your wedding day.

Step 3 — The Intake Session
If we move forward, we'll plan an intake session, either in person or online. This is where we dive deeper into your vision, your timeline, and what matters most to you. I may bring my camera along to capture a few natural moments, especially if you'd like to ease into being photographed.

Step 4 — Your Personalised Proposal
Following our intake, I'll send you a tailored proposal based on your wedding day, location, and wishes. While I offer a clear pricing structure, every wedding is unique, and your proposal reflects that.

Step 5 — Securing Your Date
Once the agreement is signed and the deposit is received, your date is officially secured in my calendar. From this moment on, I'm fully committed to documenting your wedding.

Step 6 — Planning Together
In the months leading up to the wedding, I'm always available to answer questions, review timelines, and offer guidance from a photographer's perspective. If you've booked a pre-wedding shoot, we'll plan that together as well.

If you're planning a destination wedding, I'm happy to travel with you wherever your story takes place.

CONNECTION FIRST

Meeting you is one of my favourite parts of the journey! Your wedding day is deeply personal, and before I photograph it, I want to get to know you a bit better: your story, your energy, and what makes you feel beautiful.

Whenever possible, we'll meet in person, ideally over tea, coffee, or dinner. We'll talk about your plans, how you met, what you love about one another, and what you imagine for your day. It's relaxed, easy, and very much a conversation.

If it feels right, I'll also bring my camera. We might take a few spontaneous photos, go for a short walk, or simply capture natural moments as we talk. Think of it as a gentle warm-up.

If meeting in person isn't possible, a video call works just as well. We'll still connect, laugh, and get to know each other — just through the lens of another camera.

PRE-WEDDING SESSION

It's official—we're a match! Now, let's plan your pre-wedding shoot. This session can be included in your photography package, and the rates depend on how much time and how many photos you'd like.

Pre-wedding shoots are one of my favorite parts of the process. They allow us to spend time together before the big day, break the ice, and experiment with poses so you're more comfortable in front of the camera when it really counts. These shoots often capture personal moments—places that matter to you, your favorite activities, or locations that hold significance in your relationship.

Before the shoot, I'll research the location and create a mood board based on your story. The photos from this session can be used in your wedding communication, like invitations or on your wedding website.

GETTING READY

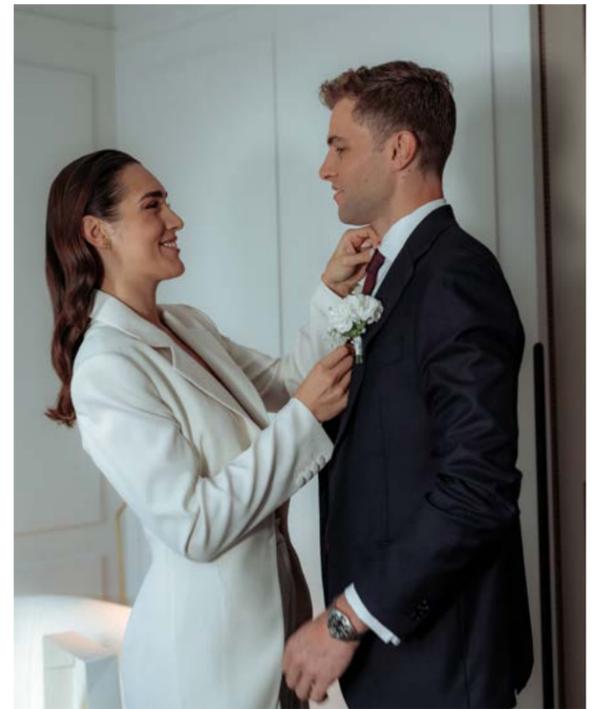

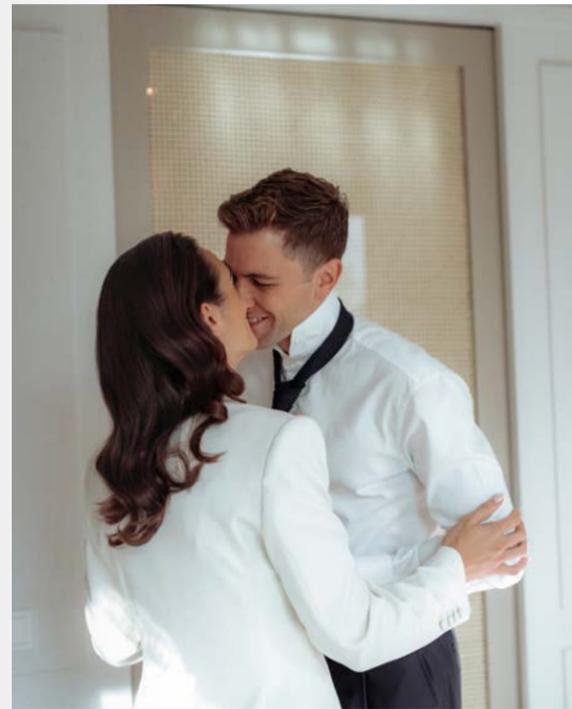

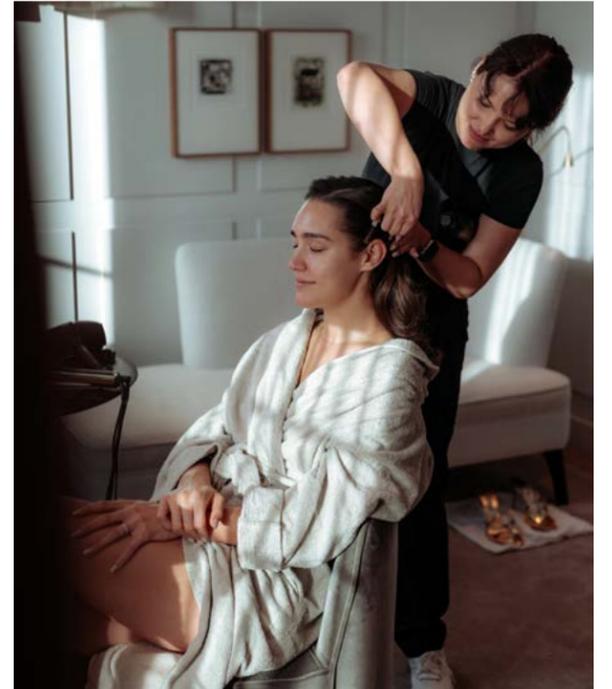

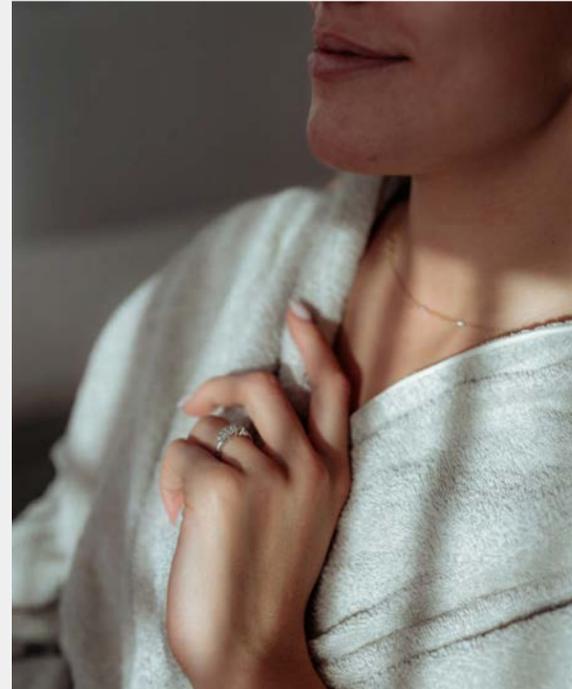

The wedding day begins quietly, filled with anticipation. The getting-ready moments are some of my favourites to photograph. While you get your make up done, I work with the details and jump in while the final touches are being done, I am there to capture the nervous excitement, and the people closest to you on that moment.

If possible, I move between both of your preparation spaces to capture the full story. If logistics require it, I may bring a second photographer to ensure nothing is missed.

Take your time and enjoy these moments. I'll be there to document the details: the dress, the jewellery, the laughter, and the emotions that set the tone for the day ahead.

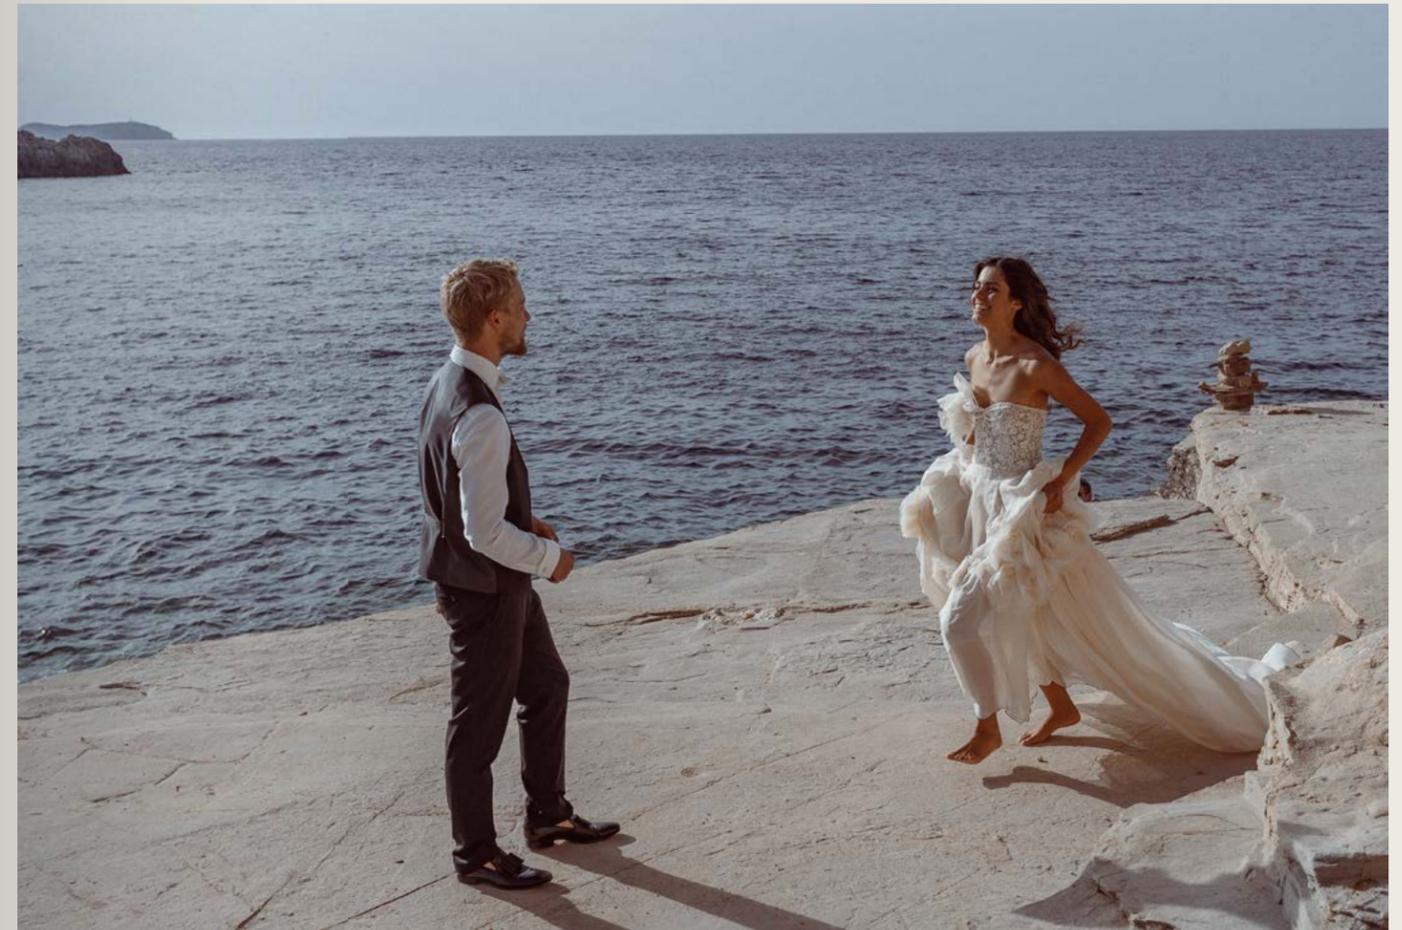

DETAILS & SMALL THINGS

The smallest details often carry the greatest meaning. Jewellery passed down through generations, handwritten notes, your rings, or carefully chosen objects—all of these elements add depth and texture to the story of your day.

I'm happy to guide you in preparing a thoughtful selection of items so they can be photographed with care and intention. These quiet moments allow space for creativity and result in images that feel refined, considered, and beautifully cohesive.

Thoughtful detail photographs elevate your gallery with an editorial sensibility, tying the visual story together and preserving the atmosphere of your wedding in a timeless and elegant way.

FIRST LOOKS

A first look is an intimate moment, shared either just between the two of you or with a few carefully chosen loved ones. There is something undeniably special about seeing each other dressed for the day of your wedding. Anticipation, emotion, and a quiet kind of excitement that is difficult to describe.

Those first exchanged glances before the ceremony are often filled with emotion, almost like seeing each other for the first time all over again. Whether experienced privately or in the presence of close family, a first look is beautifully raw.

If you're considering a first look, I'm happy to help you plan it in a way that feels natural and, allowing the moment to unfold effortlessly and captured with care.

THE CEREMONY

The ceremony is the heart of your wedding day. It is where time slows, emotions surface, and everything else gently falls away. Whether you exchange vows outdoors, in a city hall, a church, a private home, or beneath open skies, this moment carries the meaning of why everyone has gathered.

I approach the ceremony with great care and respect, focusing not only on the key moments but on the atmosphere surrounding them. There's something about the quiet anticipation before you and your partner arrive, the exchanged glances, the reactions of your loved ones, and the subtle gestures that often speak louder than words. These fleeting details are what give the ceremony its depth and emotional resonance.

With experience in both natural and artificial lighting, I adapt seamlessly to any environment to ensure your ceremony is documented beautifully.

The result is a visual narrative that reflects not just what happened, but how it felt—a timeless record of one of the most meaningful moments of your lives.

THE PEOPLE YOU LOVE

Your wedding day brings together the people who matter most to you, often all in one place at the same time dressed their best. Group portraits are a meaningful way to honour that moment and preserve it for years to come.

We'll plan these photos in advance so it flows smoothly and don't feels rushed or overwhelming. Alongside the classic group portraits, I also encourage spontaneous interactions with laughter, embraces, and small moments that unfold naturally after posing creating a balanced and authentic record.

If you'd like something a little more special, I also offer the option of individual guest portrait sessions during the wedding. Using a plain backdrop or a nice place in the venue to be photographed beautifully and intentionally, resulting in timeless portraits they'll truly cherish, a small gift from you.

THE COUPLE'S SESSION

A little pause, just for the two of you.

Before or after the ceremony, we'll step away together for a couple's session—no audience, no pressure, just a moment to breathe and enjoy each other.

I usually recommend doing this after the "I do's," when everything feels lighter and you can fully relax into the day. I'll guide you toward beautiful light and quiet corners, but what happens in between is what really matters. Think soft laughter, hands intertwined, stolen glances, a quick spin, or a kiss you didn't plan.

There's no need to worry about posing. I'll gently guide you, but mostly I'll encourage you to move, talk, and be yourselves like a film. The magic lives in those in-between moments—the ones that feel natural, playful, and completely yours.

This is also why the pre-wedding shoot can be such a gift. It allows us to get comfortable together beforehand, so on the wedding day everything feels easy, familiar, and effortless.

If you're dreaming of something extra—whether that's a longer session, a meaningful location we can't fit into the day. If you'd like to have an extended I'm always happy to plan a separate session in the days following the wedding.

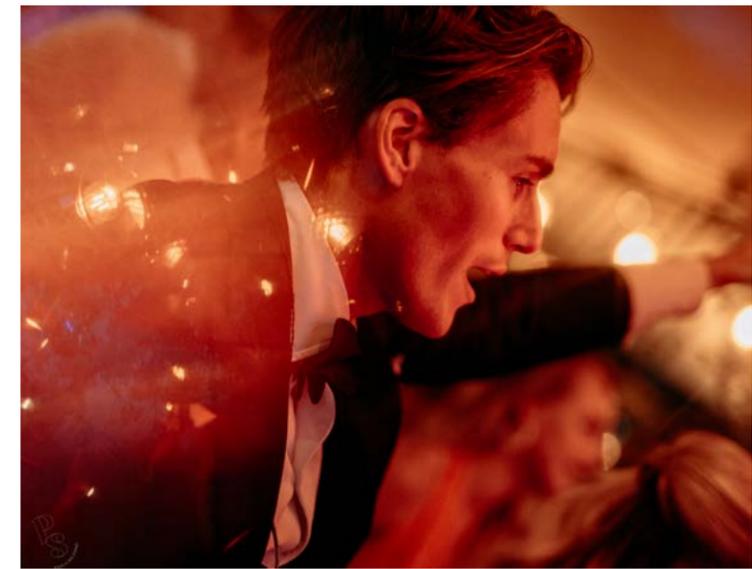

THE CELEBRATION

The toasts, the cake, and pure joy—this is when the celebration truly begins! The reception is a perfect time to capture candid photos of you and your guests enjoying the night.

If you've got a special dance prepared, a fun game, or a meaningful moment planned with family or friends, let me know ahead of time so I can be sure to capture every bit of the fun!

While some photographers leave before the party wraps up, I'm happy to stay through the night if you wish. Let me know your preference, and we'll make it work. Expect lots of fun, energetic shots with dynamic movement and flash aesthetics to preserve the festive spirit of your reception.

THE INVESTMENT

Choosing your wedding photographer is about trust, connection, and the feeling that your story is in the right hands. My approach is documentary mixed with direction and hint's of editorial. I love fashion photography and finding the right balance to create those moments in living day is my goal when working with you.

Each wedding is approached individually. While I offer a selection of designed collections, every proposal is shaped around your plans and the moments that matter most to you. Whether you're celebrating close to home or across borders, the aim is to create timeless images that feel honest, refined, and deeply personal.
